Student Tuition Recovery Authority

The Student Tuition Recovery Authority (“STRA”) came into existence in 1991. The purpose of the Authority is to protect students of any school registered by the State Board of Career Colleges and Schools from tuition loss for the term, whether due to business failure or any other reason for which the student is not legally responsible.

The STRA disburses appropriate refunds to students who were enrolled in institutions that went out of business and did not return to those students their pre-paid tuition or provide a means of completing their program of instruction up to the amount of their pre-paid tuition.

The STRA consists of five members:

1. The Executive Director of the State Board of Career Colleges and Schools;
2. The Executive Director the Ohio Association of Career Colleges and Schools;
3. The Treasurer of the State or his/her designee;
4. The Chairman of the Senate Committee that primarily deals with education; and
5. The Chairman of the committee of the House of Representatives that primarily deals with education.

Each registered school is required to pay an annual assessment into the Fund, based on each school’s prior gross tuition receipts. The State Board of Career Colleges and Schools has the responsibility to collect these funds and may pursue any lawful means of assuring that students of any school registered by the State Board do not suffer tuition loss as a result of a business failure or other default of a school. This may include lawsuits against a school or any individual who may reasonably have liability as a result of default, in which the Attorney General shall advise and represent the Board.

General Information about the State Board of Career Colleges and Schools

The Board's general responsibilities include:

1. Maintaining the viability of registered schools through oversight of their programs and curricula along with their business practices, including advertising and recruiting.
2. Monitoring schools that provide educational and related services to a population of students who might not be served in the non-profit or public sector.
3. Protecting reputable schools from unfair competitive practices of unscrupulous school operators and their representatives.
4. Protecting the investment of students who have paid for education and training services.
5. Protecting the citizens of Ohio from fraudulent and unscrupulous persons who may seek to enter the sector of higher education.

In carrying out these responsibilities, the Board's goals are to offer help, encouragement, and guidance to registered schools so that those Ohioans who choose them will be assured of quality education and training. In that process, the Board strives to uniformly deliver a consistent, fair, and equitable administration of its responsibilities in order to encourage maximum performance, which leads to gainful employment or career enhancement for each graduate of an Ohio proprietary school.

The Board is proud of its role in the regulation of this important post-secondary sector. It feels strongly that, with their continued cooperation, Ohioans can remain assured that their investment in a proprietary school is one on which they can depend.

The Ohio Association of Career Colleges and Schools Mission

The Ohio Association of Career Colleges and Schools is the active voice of post-secondary career education colleges and schools of Ohio, which are non-tax supported, privately owned and administered. Membership is strictly voluntary thus participating colleges and schools consider the Association's mission important to their success.

- Establishing and developing liaison between the private career education industry, State Licensing Boards, State Agencies, the General Assembly, State and Regional Professional Agencies, State Commerce and Industry, National Associations, Accrediting Commissions and the United State Department of Education.
- Providing conferences, institute workshops and seminars for professional development of member school administrators, instructors, admissions representatives and placement specialists.
- Review current research and suggest new research in such areas as techniques to improve management, instruction, admissions and student service functions and outcome.
- Provide monitoring of member and non-member schools activities to assure compliance with regulatory requirements, and accrediting standards. Encourage regular training and updating of personnel.
- Providing the State Legislature up-to-date information regarding the needs of our schools and the students they serve in order to assure participation in all appropriate funding and support. The Association provides the access of information to the Legislature of our member schools.

General Information about Career Colleges & Schools

It is well documented that the US is experiencing a shortage of skilled workers. This situation has numerous consequences, one of which is that the availability of human resources have become primary factors in industry locations and expansions. If Ohio is to remain a leader in the race for economic growth and development, it is imperative to have a dependable supply of well-trained workers. Fortunately, Ohio has a large pool of young workers; it is one of the state's major competitive strengths. Unfortunately, the current level of post-high school education and training in Ohio does not facilitate maximum benefit from this critical economic resources.

The state colleges and vocational schools of Ohio are not able presently to meet the ongoing demand for trained workers needed by the high-tech sector and other industries. A coherent and unified strategy among the legislature, industry, and educational institutions to address this need is vital to sustaining growth and economic prosperity. Ohio's one solution is increased reliance on graduates from private career schools in bridging this skills gap. These facilities already make a notable contribution to the workforce training requirements of the state and, with additional support, could be even more effective.

The Role of Private Career Schools

One element of the solution to the dearth of educated workers in areas of high demand clearly lies with private career colleges and schools; they pay a critical role and are one of the most effective means for rectifying the trained labor shortage.

Private, post-secondary career colleges and schools play an important role in workforce development; they offer a wide variety of occupational curricula that provide students with the skills needed to succeed in the workforce. There are approximately 200 private, post-secondary institutions in Ohio offering programs in an array of professions. From fields as diverse as aviation, welding, computer technology, medical support, and performing arts, the state's private, post-secondary institutions offer students a focused education with the intent of linking the classroom with the workplace.

The Ohio Association of Career Colleges and Schools is the statewide association for these institutions. Some schools offer courses of shorter duration than traditional two-year institutions, while others have programs that culminate in a degree. Every school is licensed by the appropriate state agency. Most institutions are also accredited by a national or regional accrediting agency that is recognized by the US Department of Education.

A unique advantage of private career colleges and schools is the close connections they maintain with industry leaders and market conditions.

Virtually every private career college and school has program advisory committees consisting of employers and graduates who assist the institution in staying current with changing needs in the relevant segments of the workforce. The result is that students can receive an education that is tailored to the expectations of employers.

Classes are constantly updated, new equipment is acquired, and employers are encouraged to assist in the development of the curriculum so that students will be able to provide a high degree of value to businesses upon entering the workforce.

Private career colleges and schools offer a substantial opportunity to enhance the labor situation in Ohio. Their continued growth and success is vital to the long-range prospects of the state.

How to Use This Guide

This guide to Career Schools and Colleges profiles 250+ post-secondary schools and colleges that provide career-specific educational programs. They offer a wide variety of post-secondary education options from short-term certificate and diploma programs to two-year associate and four-year baccalaureate degrees. The programs included are defined as instruction and are designed to prepare individuals with a minimum of the entry-level skills and training required for employment in a specific trade, occupation, or profession. The institutions profiled in this book are all licensed by the State Board of Career Colleges and Schools.

These schools have all contributed or are currently contributing to the Student Tuition Recovery Fund. It is the Authority's pleasure to prepare and circulate this Guide to interested Ohioans.

The Guide contains information on accreditation, student financial aid, and a listing of schools by county.

Perhaps the most beneficial use of this Guide will be found on the individual pages devoted to each institution. Each one-page entry provides details about the institution, special features, financial aid and scholarship programs available, tuition, and any degrees, diplomas, and certificates offered.

Accrediting Agencies

Accreditation is a status granted to an institution that meets or exceeds the stated criteria of educational quality. The purposes of accreditation are to assess and enhance the educational quality of an institution, assure consistency in institutional operations, promote institutional improvement, and provide for public accountability.

Accreditation functions specifically to:

- Evaluate whether an institution meets or exceeds published minimum standards
- Assist students in determining acceptable institutions for enrollment
- Assist institutions in determining acceptability of transfer credits
- Assist employers in determining validity of programs of study and the acceptability of graduate qualifications
- Assist employers in determining eligibility for employee tuition reimbursement programs
- Enable graduate to sit for certification exams
- Involve staff and faculty members, students, graduates, and advisory boards in institutional evaluation and planning
- Create goals for institutional self-improvement
- Provide a self-regulatory alternative for state oversight functions
- Provide a basis for determining an institution's eligibility to participate in federal student assistance programs

Accreditation is a deliberate and thorough process and is entered into voluntarily for purposes of quality assessment and institutional enhancement. Accrediting agencies assess compliance with published administrative and academic standards and seek a continuous striving for excellence on the part of the institutions they accredit. As such, the accrediting agencies serve students, society, and higher education as well as their accredited institutions and entities by striving to ensure academic excellence and ethical standards. Providing appropriate accrediting criteria and enhancement services to its membership are key elements in achieving these goals. Accrediting agencies perform peer assessment, pay close attention to educational trends, and maintain a commitment to require both ethical business and educational practices at institutions that promote qualitative standards, policies, and procedures leading to institutional and organizational effectiveness.

Student Financial Aid

There are several types of financial aid offered to help pay for educational expenses: grants, loans, student employment (work), and scholarships. Grants and scholarships are “gifts” and do not have to be repaid. Loans are borrowed money that the borrower must pay back over a period of time, usually after the student leaves school. Student employment is normally part-time work arranged for a student during the school year. Wages received by the student are used for college expenses.

The primary source of aid for students attending a career college and school is the federal government. The federal government offers both grant and loan financial aid programs.

In addition, Ohio has many types of student financial aids in the form of grants to assist students to finance their degree programs.

Other sources that award aid to students are private foundations, such as those of corporations, civic associations, unions, fraternal organizations, and religious groups. Most of these awards are not based solely on the student’s need, although the amount the award may vary depending on financial need.

In addition, many companies offer tuition reimbursement to their employees and/or their employees’ dependents. The personnel department at either your or your parent’s place of employment can tell you whether or not the company offers this benefit and who may be eligible. Lastly, there are some colleges that offer awards from their own funds or from money received from various organizations. This type of aid is often referred to as “institutional aid.”

A. Federal Student Financial Aid

GRANTS

Federal Pell Grant: Funded by the federal government, this need-based grant is available for undergraduate students who have financial need. Award amounts vary according to an eligibility index. The maximum award amount for the 2007-2008 will be $4,310 per year.

Federal Supplement Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG): Funded by the federal government, this need-based grant is available for undergraduate students who have exceptional financial need. Although the maximum award per year can be $4,000, few career colleges and schools have an abundance of FSEOG funds, and therefore award amounts usually range from $100 to $400 per year.

If you have specific questions about tuition charges, financial aid or programs offered, please contact the school directly.

LOANS

Federal Perkins Loan: The Federal Perkins Loan is awarded on the basis of demonstrated financial need. The interest rate is 5% and the first payment is due nine months after you leave school. The maximum award is $4,000 but, like the FSEOG funds, most career colleges and schools have limited Perkins funding and will award what they can to the neediest students.

Direct and FFEL Stafford Loans: Stafford Loans are the major resource of self-help for students. Depending on the school you attend, your Stafford Loan may be made either through the Federal Direct Student Loan Program (Direct Loan) or through the Federal Family Education Loan Program (FFELP). Some schools participate in the Direct Loan Program and others in the FFEL Program. Direct Loans and FFELP Loans have identical loan limits, identical interest rates (variable; will not exceed 8.25%), and identical deferment and cancellation provisions. The major source of difference between the two is the source of the loan funds. The Direct Loan funds come from the U.S. government and the FFELP Loan funds come from private lenders (banks, credit unions, etc.). There are also small differences in repayment options within the two programs.

There are Subsidized and Unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loans in the Direct Loan Program and the FFEL Program. You can have either loan or a combination of both loans, depending on your financial need, as long as you do not exceed the annual loan limit.

Subsidized Stafford Loan: You may qualify for a Subsidized Federal Stafford Loan if you have demonstrated financial need, as determined by your financial aid office. The interest on the loan is paid by the federal government while you are in school, during the six-month grace period after leaving school and during any authorized deferment periods.

Unsubsidized Stafford Loan: If you do not qualify for a Subsidized Federal Stafford Loan, you may be eligible for an Unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loan. With the unsubsidized loan, you are responsible for paying the interest while you are attending school, during the six-month grace period after leaving school, and during any authorized deferment periods. You have the option of deferring the interest until repayment. The deferred interest is capitalized (added to principal) at the start of repayment.

If you have specific questions about tuition charges, financial aid or programs offered, please contact the school directly.

Federal Parent Loans for Undergraduate Students (PLUS): The Federal PLUS Loan Program enables parents of dependent students to obtain loans to pay for their child's educational costs. The interest rate for loan is set once each year, and the maximum rate is 9%. Parents may borrow up to the cost of attendance minus any other financial aid received by the student.

WORK

Federal Work-Study (FWS): The Federal Work-Study Program provides jobs for students with financial aid eligibility. It gives students a chance to earn money to help pay for educational expenses while providing valuable work experience. Eligible students are also afforded the opportunity to perform community service work. Many career colleges and schools offer FWS, but the number of jobs available tend to be limited.

B. State Student Financial Aid Grants (Degree Students Only)

Ohio Instructional Grant

Full-Time Ohio Instructional Grant: The Ohio Instructional Grant Program (OIG) provides need-based tuition assistance to full-time undergraduate students from low and moderate income families. Recipients must be Ohio residents. This program is intended to expand access to higher education by bringing the cost of college within reach of more Ohio families. Awards are based on family income with consideration given to the number of dependents in the family. Benefits are restricted to the student's instructional and general fee charges. Proposed awards for the 2007-2008 academic year may range from $372 to $4,632. Students apply for OIG by completing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). This application is available from a high school guidance counselor or a College Financial Aid Office.

Part-Time Student Instructional Grant: This program provides financial assistance to Ohio residents who are enrolled for part-time undergraduate study at eligible Ohio public and private colleges and universities. Eligibility is based on financial need. Participating schools select the recipients of these benefits and determine the amount of each award within guidelines established by the Ohio Board of Regents. Interested students should contact a College Financial Aid Administrator.

Ohio Workforce Development Grant: In 1999, the Ohio General Assembly created a Workforce Development Grant for Ohio students attending Ohio's career colleges and schools. House Bill 282 established a new line items within the Ohio Board of Regents Budget. The grant has made money available to first year Ohio students attending career colleges and schools who are enrolled in a degree program (approximately $300 per student, per year).

Scholarships: Many schools and colleges have individual scholarships available for students. Check with the particular school, if interested, to determine how to apply.

If you have specific questions about tuition charges, financial aid or programs offered, please contact the school directly.

Ohio Association of Career Colleges and Schools Scholarship: The Ohio Association of Career Colleges and Schools annually makes available to graduating high school seniors 35 to 40 scholarships to attend one of its member schools. These scholarships are valued from $2,000 to $13,000 per academic year. Contact your high school counselor for more information.

Ohio War Orphans Scholarship Program: The Ohio War Orphans Scholarship Program awards tuition assistance to the children of deceased or severely disabled Ohio veterans who served in the armed forces during a period of declared war or conflict. To receive War Orphans Scholarship benefits, a student must be enrolled for full-time undergraduate study at an eligible Ohio college or university. Ohio residency is required. Applicants must be under the age of 21. Scholarship benefits cover all instructional and general fee charges at two- and four-year public colleges and universities and a portion of these charges are eligible at private colleges and universities. Application is made to the Ohio Board of Regents/State Grants and Scholarships Department. Applications are available from the Ohio Board of Regents/State Grants and Scholarships Department, high school guidance offices, veterans service offices, and college financial aid offices. The application deadline is July 1st of each year.

Ohio Academic Scholarship Program: The Ohio Academic Scholarship Program provides competitive, merit-based financial assistance to the state's most academically outstanding high school graduates who enroll for full-time undergraduate study in Ohio institutions of higher education. This program provides an incentive for students to remain in Ohio. Each year, at least one Ohio Academic Scholarship is awarded to a student from each participating chartered high school in the state. Eligibility for these awards is determined by a selection formula that considers a student's high school grade-point average and scores from the ACT Assessment. Scholarships provide $2,000 each year for up to four years of study. Application is made through the student's high school guidance office.

Veterans Education Benefits: Educational benefits are available for eligible veterans, members of the selected reserves, and eligible survivors and dependents. The Montgomery GI Bill – Active Duty provides up to 36 months of education benefits to eligible veterans. The Montgomery GI Bill – Selected Reserves may be available if you are a member of the Selected Reserves which includes the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, Coast Guard Reserves, the Army National Guard, and the Air National Guard. Eligibility for this program is determined by the Selective Reserve components. The Veterans Education Assistance Program (VEAP) can be used by a veteran who first entered active military service between January 1, 1977 and June 30, 1985 and elected to make contributions to participate in this education benefit program. Survivors and dependents educational assistance provides educational benefits to eligible dependents of veterans who are permanently and totally disabled due to a service-related condition, or who died while on active duty or as a result of a service related condition. To receive detailed information on any of the educational benefit programs, contact the DVA toll free number at 1-888-GI Bill 1, or visit the VA benefit web site at: www.gibill.va.gov.
